	Coaching Philosophy
We work hard, but I have a huge focus on having a great time and doing my best to create an awesome, positive experience overall. Practices are 2x/week during season and off-season play, in addition to games. I have access to a small indoor gym for year-round technical training for my teams at an extremely low price. Due to this, we practice year-round and even during rainy or snowy days, with the exception of the winter holidays, and July holidays. I believe that playing time is based upon a player’s position, their willingness to work hard, and positively contribute to the success of the team. I coach because I really love it! It is not my job, and I want this to be as affordable for everyone as possible, so I will not charge personal coaching fees, but I invest all the time and effort as if I am being paid.
