		Coaching Philosophy
Fun, Fun, Fun-At a higher level! At this age, we want the girls to enjoy the game and learn. During the years I have coached in Colorado, Massachusetts, Indiana and Utah, I have discovered that the basis for coaching any sport is to know the expectations of the player and his/her parents. With this foundation, I strive to match the player skills with the ultimate team performance. No matter what level of soccer a team is aligned to, experience has taught me that each player needs to improve their individual skills so, they are better today, than they were yesterday. When this occurs, the whole team improves. In addition, when this is accomplished, players, parents and the entire team typically finds fulfillment in the sport and payback on their investment in time and money. I emphasize technical development with every age particularly, younger players. My goal is to have each player technically sound so they have fun, are safe and someday want to be a soccer coach. Having fun playing soccer is essential.
