	Coaching Philosophy

My coaching philosophy is that if we work hard, work together and develop one another we will be successful and win games. I feel that player development is imperative to enjoying and playing the game of soccer. Success on the field and off the field. I develop the players passing, ball movement, possession control, and ability to create scoring opportunities. The game of soccer is fun and I want the players to continue playing and as they get older they will want to play and coach soccer throughout their lives.
