	Coaching Philosophy
I believe soccer is the best sport in the world. I love coaching soccer because it's fun to watch players grow and develop in the game and into the best athletes. I want each player to become the best person they can and will work with them to develop the skills and abilities to be great players and people. Soccer is the ultimate team game and I strongly encourage competition, communication and comradery. I have always and will continue to allow the players and the parents to set the pace of this team and encourage them to be involved in other aspects of life as well. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions before tryouts at spenchewy@hotmail.com. I look forward to meeting your player. Good luck!
