	Coaching Philosophy
	My responsibility as a coach is to help each player become tactically and technically proficient in the whole game of soccer. Each player is expected to work hard every day, strive to improve individually, and finally... help the team play at the highest level. Attendance is essential. Practices prepare us for games, and games prepare us for practices. If you have not done it in practice, then it will be too late to apply it in a game situation. I coach teamwork, communication, and other life skills that can be learned from a team sport. I am excited and look forward to working with your player to help them grow.
